FIND THE CAREER THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOU

It's important to know what future employment in Australia looks like. The nature of jobs and work is changing. Not all jobs are full-time. Some people work part-time and have more than one job. People work from home and some people work for themselves. In fact, you're likely to have 8–12 jobs in your lifetime.

Today, there are 12 million Australians at work. Employment is matched to the goods and services we produce as well as the population. The more people there are, the more services needed such as housing, hospitals, food and education. We are seeing increases in demand for childcare and schools, personal services, fitness, aged care and health services.

Technology is also changing the way we work, so having strong IT skills will be a plus. Many jobs will be automated, therefore jobs that need Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths (STEM) qualifications will also be in high demand.

Most jobs require a qualification. To get a job you need to be skilled and trained either at university or a vocational college such as TAFE or complete an apprenticeship.

The perfect match

The secret to finding the right career is matching your personality style to careers that you are genuinely interested in. When your strengths match the job, it's a "good fit". Employers call these your employability or transferable skills.

In our research, we've found that people are most successful when they are in jobs that allow them to use their natural strengths. Knowing your personality style is one of the best ways of finding out what you are good at, and the careers that match best.

You are unique

We all have great potential and each personality style has its own unique strengths and weaknesses. You have your individual talents; what you're good at; how you like to do things; and what you enjoy most. These can be different from your family and friends and that's what makes you unique.

Knowing your strengths can help you choose your career and also help to build your self-esteem. By using your strengths you also gain confidence.

Take the next step

Your MyCareerMatch Personality Profile report lists a number of career choices that match the talents you have. We don't expect that you will be attracted to all of these. Select the ones you find interesting and do your research to find out more.

PERSONALITY PROFILE

MyCareerMatch uses four style identifiers:

- (D) Driver
- (P) Promoter
- (S) Supporter
- (A) Analyser

When blended together in varying percentages, these four personality styles make us who we are.

D Driver

Drivers are Adventurers – strong willed, practical and decisive. They are action orientated and results driven. Drivers like to lead and win every challenge.

P Promoter

Promoters are Socialisers – outgoing, fun and charming. They are great communicators who inspire others with their imagination.

S Supporter

Supporters are Helpers – kind, dependable and practical. They are easy to get along with and enjoy helping people.

A Analyser

Analysers are Thinkers – great with facts and numbers. They are well-organised, strive for accuracy and like to pay attention to details.

Your personality style is:

DOMINANT STYLE

Driver

BACKUP STYLE

Analyser

There is no right or wrong style, and one style is not better than another. All styles can succeed or fail. What's important is what you do with your talents and the skills and education you receive.

Our research tells us that the closer your personality style matches your job – the happier, more productive and less stressed you are likely to be.

People are a blend of all four styles and each style has its level of strength. This graph indicates how strongly each style influences your personality. The highest is your Dominant style. This is the one that governs how you behave most of the time.

The second is your Backup style. It's like your co-pilot and kicks in when there's a need for balance and sound decision making. When styles are of equal percentage the order to determine your style is D, P, S then A.

YOUR DRIVER ANALYSER STYLE

Add to your resume

Driver Analysers are determined people who have great confidence, are not easily side tracked, and can't be pushed into doing something they don't want to do. This can make you very stubborn but also very driven. You say exactly what you think and sometimes this will challenge others but you don't mind because you are a direct, straight-forward person who, once having set your mind on something, just goes after it.

You feel that you can manage things on your own if you have to, and you are confident when making decisions. You are prepared to take calculated risks and give it a go. You like to take charge and are not afraid to tackle new situations. You are a great problem solver and have the ability to carefully consider and weigh up your options. You thrive on challenges and being the winner is your ultimate goal. You don't get too emotional and prefer to deal with facts and figures rather than people. You're not unsocial but you don't have to have people around you all the time.

You are a creative thinker and something of an inventor. Your talent to think things through helps to drive your adventurer spirit. It also allows you to come up with new ideas that you try out. You persist with something until you become an expert.

Driver Analysers make a difference by:

Taking charge

Your leadership skills compel you to take charge and be in control. You make a difference when it's needed to turn a business around or solve a problem because you are willing to back yourself. Your self-confidence and leadership qualities encourage others to follow and support you.

Setting high standards

Your natural instinct to win means that you set high standards for yourself and others. You encourage others to be the best they can be and not to expect anything less than success. You respect loyalty and hard work.

Being a creative thinker

You are a visionary and a "future orientated" person who doesn't look back. You are good at developing concepts, sometimes the bigger the better. Nothing is impossible. You use a logical approach to design and innovate.

Solving problems

You are a natural and gifted problem solver. You are able to get to the core of an issue or problem and provide solutions that work. You see the problem as a challenge rather than a setback, and this gives you clarity to see through it.

Looking at the big picture

You prefer to work with the big picture or the big idea, rather than the details. Your rational approach allows you to see how things connect. Your visionary thinking lets you see how everything relates to each other and where problems may arise.

Getting it done on time

You are realistic and strive for results such as getting things done on time, or saving money, or figuring out how to be more productive. You want to see tasks completed efficiently. You ensure that things are done correctly and deadlines are met.
